

INNOVATING CHURCH, SUSTAINING COMMUNITY

Giving to reimagine what we know and grow what we love.

WHAT DOES CHURCH LOOK LIKE THESE DAYS?

It's a place to feed our spirit and spread that fullness into the world, whether we want to build a safe haven for youth, work for justice, deepen our faith, protect this spectacular place, take care of our neighbors, or teach the world to sing...the list is up to us. And it's as long or as short, as bold or as timid, as we decide to make it.

Yes, this is about the money. But really, it's about deciding what we want to make possible, especially in this pandemic time when "possible" has changed so dramatically in meaning.

Our congregation still has expenses such as salaries, building maintenance, office supplies, and program materials.

We also have bold visions; possibilities becoming realities. The only way we fulfill these ministries is to commit to a budget with promised pledges from our congregation.

We are aiming for 100% participation. Please thoughtfully consider what's right for you. It's not about how much you pledge — it's about how much you are invested in what's possible.
