From the Membership Board:

We recognize that our engagement with FCCB is as individual as we are. Attending worship can be often or infrequent, in person or online. Participation and support of our church community includes serving on a committee, volunteering time, talent and/or resources, or it can mean simply keeping our congregation in prayer. There is no such thing as not doing enough, as long as we are intentional about our involvement in the church.

As participants in the new member inquirers classes learn, when we join First Congregational Church of Bellingham we covenant to:

- Attend church services regularly
- Give systematically for the church's support and benevolences
- Participate in the life and work of the church
- Walk together supporting all travelers in their faith journey
- Strive to treat one another with respect and care for one another with love
- Foster an atmosphere of open communication and mutual trust
- Risk change so that lives may be transformed

Therefore, in 2024-2025 I covenant as a [please check one]:

- Companion - I am solely dedicated to a specific cause, program, or team associated with FCCB.
- Friend - I am attentive to the life of the church, checking in occasionally.
- Bygone - I am no longer associated with FCCB.
